To protect us, of course. It's for our own good.

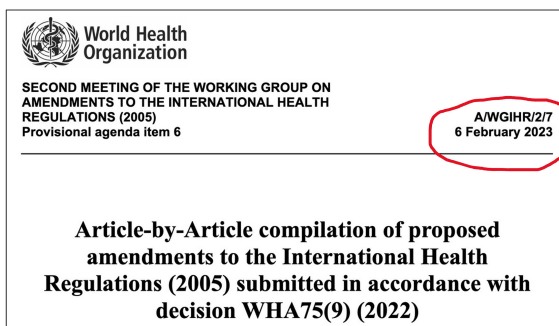

Because without censorship and its twin propaganda, how could they peacefully take over the world?

I hope you saw that "With full respect for dignity, human rights and freedom of persons" which are embedded in the current International Health Regulations (IHR) was crossed out in the draft of the IHR amendments prepared by the WHO's review committee and working group a year ago. All negotiated text since then has been kept under the highest secrecy. So we only have the draft from last February to go on, in trying to understand what the current version of the document might be. Human rights, dignity and freedom of person were to be excluded. See screenshots below.

Time: 11:00 AM - 3:30 PM

Location: The Assembly Rooms, Glastonbury, UK

Tickets and Info

Join us for the first The Alternative View Presents with Gary Fraughen

Gary will be sharing his research and speaking about many subjects including:

Blue shift radiation
Super fluid consciousness with servants
Savants and greed
Numbers in the cracks and crevices of the universe
The universal balance sheet of doing harm to others

This is your opportunity to get up close and personal with Gary. This will be a more intimate event with plenty of opportunity for questions and discussion.

Respect for human rights, dignity and freedoms of persons was removed in the IHR amendments. When people noticed and complained, the missing words were later added to the Pandemic Treaty

Article 3 Principles

1. The implementation of these Regulations shall be with full respect for the dignity, human rights and fundamental freedoms of persons based on the principles of equity, inclusivity, coherence and in accordance with their common but differentiated responsibilities of the States Parties, taking into consideration their social and economic development.

But wait!

The UN Secretary-General Guterres says no, we are still committed to dignity, human rights and freedom of persons. In fact, he has a plan to promote and protect human rights and fundamental freedoms. It says so, right there, on the UN web page below.

Countering Disinformation

The UN General Assembly has expressed concern over the proliferation of disinformation and has welcomed the efforts of the Secretary-General to promote international cooperation in countering disinformation. In response to that, the Secretary-General has submitted a report based on information and best practices shared by States, UN entities and others on countering disinformation.

In his report, Countering disinformation for the promotion and protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms, the Secretary-General describes the challenges posed by disinformation and the responses to it, sets out the relevant international legal framework and discusses measures that States and technology enterprises reported to have taken to counter disinformation.

How is he going to protect them? Well, obviously, it's gonna cost some dough. Doesn't everything. But he has some best practices all lined up. He is going to protect our human right to information by censoring the information, clamping down on free speech, protecting us snowflakes from any information that might disturb us... or cause us to disturb THEM.

Wait what? Is THIS why so many 'snowflakes' were created? Damn these guys, they must have been planning this caper for a very long time...

Wikipedia says he can't get away with this double-talk, based on the Universal Declaration of Human Rights:

Freedom of speech is a principle that supports the freedom of an individual or a community to articulate their opinions and ideas without fear of retaliation, censorship, or legal sanction. The right to freedom of expression has been recognised as a human right in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and international human rights law by the United Nations. Many countries have constitutional law that protects free speech. Terms like free speech, freedom of speech, and freedom of expression are used interchangeably in political discourse. However, in a legal sense, the freedom of expression includes any activity of seeking, receiving, and imparting information or ideas, regardless of the medium used.*

That looks pretty clear to me. He can't get away with this!

But no! Ursula von der Leyen laid it out clearly at Davos just now: "The top concern for the next two years (for WEF attendees) is Misinformation and Disinformation."

As I told Kevin Stocklin of the Epoch Times today, the globalists are committed to a soft coup, no bullets or bombs for us. We have to march into their trap willingly. They don't want to destroy all our valuable infrastructure. New York and Boston will never look like Gaza.

But to manage this feat, absolute control of the narrative—of virtually all information—is critical. And that is why climate change and wars had to move over so misinformation could take top billing in Davos.

They are committed. And they are very sneaky. Read this, a nugget from the IHR, the same proposed document I started with. Censorship was rolled into the section on how the WHO can assist nations. Assist them in breaking international and probably domestic law. The bolded parts are the new proposals.

Censorship was quietly slipped into Article 44 ("Collaboration and Assistance")

Article 44 Collaboration and assistance

2. WHO shall collaborate with and promptly assist States Parties, in particular developing countries upon request, to the extent possible, in:

(e) (New) countering the dissemination of false and unreliable information about public health events, preventive and anti-epidemic measures and activities in the media, social networks and other ways of disseminating such information;
